

How do you walk in love? Paul tells us by instructing us to stop gossiping, living in sexual sin, and avoid disobedience.

Vs. 8 reminds us that we are no longer in the darkness, but now we can walk as children of the light. The way we shine that light is to discern and do what is good and right.

When we get real with God, he will expose the dark spots in our lives so we can be better. Have you allowed Him to awaken you? Paul clearly instructs us to stop being distracted and start giving thanks. Do you wake up filled with purpose or anxiety? Do you continue to walk in the darkness or do you allow God to shine HIS light so you can be filled with the Holy Spirit?

Verses 22-33

The strength of every relationship is based on your standing with God. Paul reminds us that marriage is a reflection of the church. And that requires love and respect. We know the world and sin can paint a different picture of marriage and I love the gentle reminder that we can be cleansed by the washing of water with the word. Paul's gentle reminder to love and respect each other can be applied to every relationship.

*Journal how you can focus your relationships and what you can do to be disciplined in “walking in the light.”

THE STUDY OF

The study of

